MONEY MARKET.

Thurspay July 21—6 P. M.

There was more ac, livity to day among the leading fancies. New Jersey Zine, Florence Plank Road, Cumberland, Parker Vein and Erie, were the favorites of operators, and transactions were made to some extent. Prices were, however, much unsettled, and the market was feverlah and fluctuating. At the first board Crystal Palace went up ½ per cent; New Jersey Zine, ½; Nicaragua, ½; Parker Vein, ½; Erie Railroad, ½; Stonington, ½. Florence and Keyport Plank Road declined ½ per cent; Sixth Avenue Railroad, ½; Cumberland Coal, ½. Dolly Hide Copper stock sold at 6½ per cent. A variety of local bank stocks were sold in small lobs; railroad THURSDAY July 21-6 P. M. of local bank stocks were sold in small lots; railroad bonds continue quiet, there appearing no anxiety on the

At the Mining Board there was more business than usual. We quote the following sales:-

The receipts at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of this port to day, amounted to $348,219 68; payments, $192,146 97—balance. $7.250,696 32 The above receipts were entirely from duties, and it is the largest amount ever received in one day at the Custon House of this port. This sum is equal to the average monthly receipts at the Custem House of either Boston or Philadelphia. To have given this large revenue from duties, the value of goods entered must have been nearly two millions of dollars.

At auction to day, Mr. Simeon Draper sold the fifty every one per cent per ton of copper. The richness averages thirty per cent. This sale, therefore, brings $141 per ton of ore. It is deliverable at Baltimore, a favorable point for the company.

The Comptroller has postponed the time for the sale of the Hudson and Berkshire Rathroad until the 15th day of

The Reading Railroad Company have made a dividend o three and a half per cent on the preferred stock of the company, and of three per cent on the common stock, payable on and after the 3d of August.

b. The capital steek of the New York and Harlem Railroad Company has not been enlarged fifty per cent since the payment of dividends commenced as stated by one of our cotemperaries. Upon the receipts of 1849, $319,000, the company paid the first dividend at the rate of four per cent per annum, in the February following. The road was then complete to Dover, eighty miles. The stock of the company then stood $1 500 000 of preferred $5,000,000 of capital stock, and a debt of about $1,000,000, making the capital stock and debt about $6,000 000, then the company declared it to be a four percent stock. Subsequently the company determined to carry the road to Chatham Four Corners, to complete the connection with Albany, and for that purpose issued extension cortificates to the amount of $2,000,000 one million of which has been converted into stock, and the other milpion has not been converted, and will not be converted at the present market value, in view of the present prosperity of the road from Dover to Chatham, and that they receive seven per cent. It is not, therefore, very likely that they will give that up for stock at four per cent, when they are receiving seven. The stock has been increased only $1 000,000, which is but twenty per cent on the capital stock, and is now $6,060,060, (instead of $5,000,000 in 1849,) upon which dividends are paid. Now let us see the increase on the erease of capital, in 1849. They were, for the first six onths of 1849, $191,718, against $461,898 for the first six mouths of 1853, which is an increase in the income derived from the road of nearly two hundred per cent, while the increased capital stock of the company has been only twenty per cent, to say nothing of the surplus receipts accumulating and increasing from year to year during that period. The directors of this company ought, and have the ability, derived from the income o this road, to place the entire capital stock of this company, $6,000 000, upon the footing of over eight per cent

7.25 more fixed carbon, and 5.10 less earthy matter or ashes.

Thus it appears that the fourteen foot Parker bad is of better quality than any coal hitherto in use from this coal district; and the ceens steamers have yet to test the qualities of the best Maryland coals against the coals of South Wales, since the Parker bad contains from two to seven per cent more fixed carbon than the coals in market from the associate beds; and all other things being equal, it is nyon this chemical ingredient that the durability and efficiency of coal mainly depends. The Parker Vein coal, in common with most of the coal of George's Creek Valley, in Maryland, take the very highest rank in the whole list of American coals now in use for parity, strength, economy and efficiency.

For evaporating power, under equal bulks and weights, George's Creek Coal stands at the head of the best American coals now in use, generating from 11 to 12 lbs. of steam, at 212 degrees F, for one of combustible matter.

For heating power in a blacksmith's force, compared with other bitumineus coals, they take the highest rank, both of these coals being capable of forming from 18 to 20 links of chain cable, while Scotch coal only makes 10, the Liverpool 13, and the Newcastie 18 links.

The above statements supply conclusive evidence of the great supariority of Parker Vein Coal, and explains fully why the Cunard line of steames prefer the coal from this coal field to any American coals now in market, though they have yet to be farnished from the best bed and localities in this carboniferous basin.

Besides the main 14 feet bed on the lands of the Parker Vein Company, there are at least two workable beds above it and three below it, and intercalared with those latter there are from nine to the beds of iron ore, varying from one to five feet in thickness.

From the aggregate thickness of all the coal beds, may twolve yards, and the weight of the coal, which averages about fifty three to fifty-four pounds per cubic foot, in the merchantable condition, and a ashes.

Thus it appears that the fourteen foot Parker bed is of

The Parker Vein Coal Company have now ten steamers on the line between New York and Baltimore, engaged in the transportation of coal and merchandise between two cities. A steamer leaves each port daily, and take full cargoes each way. The company are new bringing to this market about two hundred tens of coal per day. In a short time its receipts will be equal to four hundred tons per day. This coal is from the real "Parker Vein," which is sometimes called the "Big Vein." It is four teen foot in thickness, and extends through George's Creek Valley. The demand for the company's coal from albany and Troy is so great that all received is immediately sent to these places.

The Lake Superior Canal and Mining Company have lately added several large and valuable tracts of land, ing prominent and distinct veins of copper, to its mineral estate, and it will nitimately absorb the richest and best mineral lands in that section of the country. The object of this company is to own and work the me valuable of the copper and other mines in the vicinity of Into Superior and where they may be obtained, to being the cres to the city of New York, to smelt, manufacture and sell them to the best advantage. The company have already obtained the right, title and interest in upwards of six thousand acres, known as the lands of the "Mineral Land Company," which embraces parts of the mineral range so famous for its rich deposits of native copper and other valuable ores. To show the character of the lands obtained from the "Mineral Land Company," the following letter from Mr. C. C. Douglass, (who is well acquainted with the lands, and whose character for integrity and ed with the lands, and whose character for integrity and intelligence is undoubted, is submitted:—

New York April 22, 1853.

Six-I have examined with much care the list of lands belonging to the Mineral Land Company, and find among them many valuable tracts for mining, farming and water power. Those in the north part of township afty-four, north of range thirty seven west are on the trap range, and contain value of good surface appearance. They are is the vicinity of the Douglass Houghton and Algonquin mines; they occupy the summit of the trap range, have a fine soil, and are covered with a thrifty growth of maple, base wood, elm, birch, bemlock and pine. The tracts in the southwest part of the township and range phosesse excellent water power. These in the vicinity of the Ridge, B hemian, and foites mines. These lands come within the limits of the trap range, and may, when theroughly explored be valuable for mining purposes. They are known to be accellent farming lands, possessing fine soil and excellent timber. There are, also, several tracts in the vicinity of the Norwich mise, and, judging from their location, they may be found of much mineral value when thoroughly explored. There are several mines of much promise in this vicinity besides the Norwich. The latter will ship this season a large amount of mass and barrel copper.

There are also valuable lands on the river, located as they are at the bead of steamboat navigation wossessing a line and abundant water power, a fine soit and excellent timber. By a judicious expenditure of money, in improving the powers, constructing reads from the mines on the east, south, and southwest, to this point, it would soon be the site of a flouri-hing village. There are also several tracts at the head of steamboat navigation, on Bay de Noqueste, of Green Bay, as well as on the main law does form the whole are in the iron district; but my knowledge of that district is not sufficiently minute to enable me to point out their true value. There are also several tracts at the h
